For the Clarion. State Medical Association.

MR. EDITOR :- It is perhaps not known to all the physicians of Mississippi that the State Medical Association" was re-organized three years ago, and has been in successful operation ever since. But it is true, and the announcement of the President, Dr. S. V. D. Hill, of Macon, that the next meeting will be held in the city of Meridian sissippi. on the first Monday in April, should not only attract the attention of members of the profession, but should induce them to make preparations to be present.

In this day of progress, association and concert of action is necessary in every prolession and avocation. In union there is strength. United action brings protection and success; besides, this annual intercourse of physicians from different sections of the State, not only furnishes the occasion for much social recreation and enjoyment, but always brings forth such an interchange of ssional thought and experience, as can out result in the advancement of the science and art of medicine, and in the general good of mankind. It is understood that several very interesting papers on special subjects will be read at the meeting. In addition to these, leasures intended to establish uniformity n securing a proper remuneration for prossional services will be discussed, and permps adopted.

A NEW PLAN OF TAX ASSESSMENT .- Mr. R. Wells, the late Commissioner of Interal Revenue, who is now at the head of the Revenue Commission for the State of New York, reports a bran new system of assessment. Taxation on personal property implies a great deal of troublesome and unwelcome inquisition into private affairsconcealment is easy, and generally half the rightful tax is evaded. The commission proposes to rate the taxes by the class of dwellings, or stores or warehouses occupied, and the style of living or doing business.— At least one good result might be expected relation to the election of United States to follow this system—a sensible abatement of ostentatious extravagance.

NEW ORLEANS, March 11, 1871. EDITOR CLARION :- I have been thinking for some time past to drop you a few lines from this metropolis of the South. You must have noticed from the out-givestness by her citizens and business men. Some of the old merchants are having gloomy apprehensions as to our future. There is, however, much conflict of opinion on some points, but nearly all agree in several of her staples. What is more, her trade will continue to administration is inaugurated. The voracious appetites of our officials seem to be insatiable, and instead of devising means to lighten the burdens on trade and commerce, their ingenuity is on the stretch to devise new methods of taxation.
